Images and comments about Easy Cancha application

Team comment

Easy Cancha is a fairly complete app and can be a reference when creating the application. It has an easy navigation thanks to the navigation bar, it gives us a summary of the placed options and allows pairing

It also has things that are not ideal for our application, such as unnecessary personal data when creating an account, which can generate a certain distrust in the user, a direct challenge that can go against our target audience, in addition to the fact that the application has to load each time we choose an option which gives a sensation of slowness.

Team comment

The Reva app has the option to try the app without an account, which in our context is fine because someone casual is going to want to explore the app before they want to think about creating an account. The possibility of evaluating a field is also an option to consider and that other applications do not have.

One thing that as a team we find that hinders the use of the application is that we have to explicitly state that we want to search for soccer fields in our location and someone who is going to use the application is not useful to see the soccer fields that a distant city, ideally it would be automatic.

Team comment

The first thing we see when entering the Dónde Juego application is a usage tutorial, as a team we think it is a good idea since it will help guide casual players of the application. It is also interesting the personalization of the profile that it offers.

Images and comments about Alquilá tu Cancha

The image shows the "Preguntas frecuentes" (FAQ) section of the Alquilá tu Cancha app. It features a list of questions with dropdown answers:

- ¿Qué datos necesito para registrarme?
- ¿Cómo reservar un turno para jugar?
- ¿La reserva es instantánea o necesito una confirmación del club?
- ¿Cuánto tiempo tengo para cancelar una reserva ya confirmada?
- ¿Qué pasa si no voy a jugar?
- ¿Qué hago si quiero cancelar una reserva?
- ¿Cómo puedo hacer para festejar cumpleaños en un club?

Each question has a small green arrow indicating it can be expanded.

The image shows a promotional section for the Alquilá tu Cancha app. It features a large green header with the text "¿Quieres probar Alquila tu cancha en tu complejo deportivo?". Below it, there's text explaining the benefits of having an online channel to manage the club and reserve pitches online. It also encourages users to leave their contact information so they can be contacted. At the bottom, there's a "Datos de contacto" (Contact data) section with fields for Name and Last Name, Club Name, Sport(s), and City, each with a required asterisk (*). A message icon is next to the club name field.
